THE STORY SO FAR

It's said that some of the greatest bands of our time have been forged on the road, Devilfire is no exception...

...Devilfire began in Birmingham during a studio session in 2013 when producer Alex Cooper (Shy, Spike of the Quireboys, Ginger) was working with with Uli Jon Roth drummer Lars Wickett. Alex revealed his grand plan for a Birmingham based melodic rock band and gave Lars a taster of the kind of music he was working on.

Devilfire's original line up included Baz Blackett, Davey Bennett (Pop Will Eat Itself) and guitarist Richard Bloomer Davies. As Alex had been putting the feelers out to his friends in the industry Devilstar, as it was originally known, were offered the Tarja Turunen Tour of Eastern Europe very early in their career.

Not wanting to turn down such a great opportunity they accepted. So, with little time to prepare, and with an unplanned name change chucked in for good measure, the five seasoned rockers flew out for their very first gig, in Budapest! They, and their music went down a storm, all original tracks from an unknown band is not normally a crowd pleaser but Tarja's audiences absolutely loved Devilfire! Fan videos started appearing all over social media during a gruelling tour with shows in Romania, Greece and Turkey.

After 10 days of gigging to 2000 capacity sold out venues DEVILFIRE had indeed forged a fiery path into the European Rock-n-Roll road. Returning to the UK to a sold out festival crowd at Hard Rock Hell AOR was the icing on the cake.

Unfortunately 2017 also saw the loss of Davey & Richard due to touring and work commitments however; due to the popularity of the band locally it wasn't long before they were replaced by Daniel Bate (Bass) & Kieran Topp (Guitar)

The remainder of 2017 saw them play at HRH Sleaze at the O2 Sheffield, support Wolfsbane at The Asylum Birmingham and O2 Islington and headline at the O2 Birmingham to a very appreciative home crowd.
